SUBJECT: Division Directive Cancellation, Standard Gypsum Products, Inc (SGP)..
Bloomington Hills, S/053/007, Washington County, Utah

SGP had initiated mining on this site during the early '90s. The disturbance is a small exploratory dig on the saddle of a hill.

On October 18, 2002 a Non-Compliance and Division Directive was issued to SGP to clean up the area because they no longer held a valid lease from the landowner, SITLA.

I spoke to Scott Gubler of SGP recently about the need to complete the reclamation of this site. He indicated that he was presently in the negotiations with SITLA to buy this area.

Housing in the Bloomington Hills area is rapidly encroaching on the area of the permit. Mr. Gubler indicated that he wanted to buy the area of the permit to place a house on this ridge. If the purchase becomes fact the need to reclaim the small disturbance would no longer be necessary.

Because of this new information, I am canceling the Non-Compliance and Division Directive. I will inspect the site on my next visit to the area to assure that Mr. Gubler's plans are moving forward.
